This map shows surficial geologic units in the Ivanpah Valley area, Clark County, Nevada. The map is based on a variety of data sources, including satellite imagery, aerial photography, and field observations. The units are color-coded to represent different types of deposits, including alluvial, eolian, and volcanic materials. The map also includes a legend that explains the symbols and colors used to represent various geologic features.

REFERENCES

We thank the following individuals for their assistance and input: Dick Meeuwis, Nevada Bureau of Mines and Geology; and others.