Submit a written version of your pseudo thesis proposal. The pseudo-proposal is to include: cover sheet, abstract, text, figures, references, budget, and timeline. The text of your proposal, including abstract is not to exceed three single spaced pages. Not included in this three page limit are cover sheet, figures, references, budget, and timeline. Short figure captions placed directly on the figures do not count against the three page limit. Your budget should include cost estimates, and your timeline should provide dates as to when major activities will be performed.

Exception to the three page limit: Recognizing that some class members have proposals that are essentially in their final state, the three page limit will be waived for those students provided that: 1) the student requests this exemption through WebCampus email 11/16/07; and 2) the students advisor is willing to provide a rigorous written review of their proposal by 12/5/07. The proposal will be graded by myself, with the advisors comments as a guide.
