The Hawkes Learning Systems (HLS) courseware has been adopted by the Math Learning Center to provide Math 96 students with a means of completing their homework assignments and selected tests online, utilizing a mastery-based homework and testing system – which also provides error-specific feedback to students to enhance their learning process. Prior to completing each online assignment or test for scoring, students are encouraged to use the “Learn” and “Practice” modes to learn course material or to supplement lectures and textbook readings prior to entering the “Certify” mode for a score.

It is important to set your computer Default Language to English when using this courseware.

Student Training Video

Unless shown in class, ALL students are required to watch the Student Training Video available at the following link prior to commencing your homework lessons:

Required Software and Optional Textbook

A textbook is optional for Math 96. You are required to buy the Hawkes Learning System Software Access Code since you will do all your homework through Hawkes. There are separate Access Codes issued for Math 95 and Math 96 and you may not use the Math 95 code for Math 96. The Access Code you initially receive for Math 96 is “good for life” and so you may re-use your Access Code anytime you have to re-take Math 96. Be sure to register your new instructor and section whenever you re-take a course.

Students who choose to purchase a used textbook are cautioned to ensure they are using the most current 6th Edition textbook for Math 96. In addition, students with used textbooks will have to purchase an Access Code from the bookstore or through Hawkes.

Hawkes Homework

All homework assignments will be done, checked and submitted to the instructor through Hawkes. You need to log into your Hawkes account at https://learn.hawkeslearning.com/ to do your homework. The Certify Mode is your assignment. Once you have successfully completed an assignment, a message should appear which lets you know you have certified and received credit for that assignment.

REMEMBER!

Separate Access Codes are required for Math 95 and Math 96 and you may not use one for the other. The Access Code you initially receive for Math 96 is “good for life” and so you may re-use your Access Code anytime you have to re-take Math 96. Be sure to register your new instructor and section whenever you re-take a course.

For your courseware to function properly, it is important to have your computer Default Language set to English.

You are highly encouraged to complete your Hawkes online homework on time. The Hawkes online homework helps you prepare for your tests and is a part of your overall course grade.
