IMPORTANT COST SAVING TIP!!!!

This semester, CHEM 103 (1001) will be accessing homework and on line quizzes using the MasteringChemistry website. The campus bookstore is selling a new “Timberlake & Timberlake” 3rd edition text with MasteringChemistry access for $121.20. A used book at the campus bookstore without MasteringChemistry access has a price of $90.90, however, when added to the separate on-line purchase price of MasteringChemistry, $60.50 (possible price increase to $66.00), you will pay considerably more than you would for the bundled software/new book combination. Purchasing access to this site from the MasteringChemistry website is $60.50 (there is a possible price increase to $66.00 for the stand alone cost without etext) (please see Web Campus course home page for one-page handout and specific access instructions).

One of your options is to purchase both access to 1) the site for homework and on line quizzes, and 2) the eText for a total of $110.00, but the eTEXT is NOT a course requirement.

Another option is to purchase a used edition of this book may be used for the course. The chapters may be numbered differently in the different editions but the contents of each chapter will be the same. Therefore if you can purchase a used text of “Timberlake & Timberlake” for less than $40 to $50, you can then purchase access to MasteringChemistry at its online web site and save. One other option to consider, is to rent the textbook (cost unknown)

The choice is yours.
