CENTRAL JAPAN RAILWAY COMPANY’S BULLET TRAIN

Guest Speakers: Richard Lawless, President & CEO, U.S.-Japan High-Speed Rail, and Tsutomu Morimura, Central Japan Railway Company

Guest Panelists: State Assemblyman Harvey J. Munford, Las Vegas Sun Reporter Rick Velotta, and UNLV Professors Edward Neumann and Mohamed Kaseko

Central Japan Railway Company (JR Central) is pleased to introduce its newest high-speed rail train, the N700-I “Bullet,” as well as its Superconducting MAGLEV train to the people of Las Vegas. JR Central provides safe, fast, reliable and environmentally friendly transportation for more than 450 million passengers per year in Japan. In 2009, JR Central announced its plans to bring both the N700-I and MAGLEV systems to the United States. Please join us for an informative evening showcasing how the N700-I and MAGLEV trains can serve the people of Las Vegas and the Western states.
